LEARN NEW RULE - EXPLANATION

Let's focus on the rule.

Suffixes are added to the end of a root word. They can change or modify the meaning, tense and word class of a word. See the -able or -ible suffix in red at the end of each word.

The -able ending is usually, but not always, used if a complete root word can be heard before it, even if there is no related word ending in -ation.

lovable

For example, in reliable, the complete word rely is heard, but the 'y' changes to 'i' in accordance with the rule.

The -ible ending is common if a complete root word can't be heard before it, but also sometimes occurs when a complete word can be heard (e.g. sensible).

horrible

The -able and -ible suffixes are used in words that are nearly always adjectives. These words can be great for writing as they can help us to describe characters, settings and personal qualities.
